ENGLAND DENIES ANY ACT AGAINST FRENCH PRESTIGE

DID NOT LINE UP WITH GERMANY, ASSERTS REPLY.

ONE IS FRIENDLY Oppose Reinforcements Before Meeting of Supreme Council However.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Paris.—Great Britain's reply to the latest French note on the Upper Silesian question, in which divergence still exists between the two nations as to the procedure to be adopted in dealing with the problem, notably as to the sending of reinforcements to the area, was delivered at the foreign office Friday.

The communication expressed a desire to find a solution acceptable to France. It was said, but maintained Great Britain's opposition to the sending of reinforcements to Silesia before the meeting of the supreme council, Aug. 4.

Nevertheless, it was added, the note does not bar the way to further discussions, and admits the hope that the finding of a solution acceptable to both France and Great Britain will be possible.

DECLARE NOTE FRIENDLY.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] London.—Great Britain's note to France regarding the Silesian problem recapitulates the circumstances which led to the present situation and declares the note to be a declaration of friendship, and that it is not intended to act independently of the supreme council in insisting on the immediate dispatch of troops.

Officials describe the note as of friendly character, in marked contrast to the attitude displayed in the French note, to which it is a reply.

The note calls attention to what is described as the "extraordinary action on the part of France" in endeavoring to act independently of the supreme council in insisting on the immediate dispatch of troops.

It points out that this is an impossible basis on which to discuss any future policy together, and that no good purpose would be served by further discussions, until there was a clear understanding of France's intentions.

Twenty-seven men made a pool to cover the bet and the money placed in the hands of J. H. Lemen, cashier of the Farmers' State Bank of Linn county.

The well was held by the referees to have produced the amount stipulated in the wager. The Minneapolis men were said to have protested, declaring that water was mixed in the oil. They brought suit against Lemen to recover the $5,000.

The judge ruled Lemen acted rightly in paying the money to the Kansas men. The gambling charges followed.

Not only ministers, but others are asking that they be stopped. Both the Gazette and the Chamber of Commerce have received telephoned complaints.

When the matter was brought to the attention of Harry V. Ross, dictator of the local lodge, of Moose which brought the carnival here, he stated that so far as he knew, there had been nothing objectionable about the show, but that he would see that he would see that the shows are toned down.

POLICE SERGEANT SHOOT AT ATTORNEY DEAD IN COURT

FOUR SHOTS FIRED

Bullet Barely Misses Judge; Peeve Over Sentence Is Cause.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Chicago.—Angered because he had been disappointed of some property and sentenced to jail for contempt of court, Henry D. Kellogg, a Chicago police sergeant, Friday shot and killed Lemuel Ackley, an attorney, in a crowded court room and then tried to shoot himself. Ackley died an hour after the shooting. Surgeons then said Kellogg would recover. The affair occurred in a crowded court room and spectators said Kellogg shot Ackley in the back and without warning.

Bullet Misses Judge
Judge McDonald, who came into the courtroom in connection with the indictment of the White Sox baseball players, was standing in the courtroom and had a narrow escape when the first bullet from Kellogg's heavy police pistol penetrated the bench and passed between the judge's legs.

Three other shots were fired, the second hitting the attorney below the heart, the third inflicting a minor wound on the policeman's victim and the fourth lodging in Kellogg's neck when he turned the weapon on himself.

Ackley, who was attorney for Sellen A. Barst, plaintiff against Kellogg, was standing before the judge's desk, according to witnesses of the affair, preparing a court order against Kellogg at the instructions from Judge McDonald.

The first shot penetrated the bench and passed between Judge McDonald's legs.

Kellogg cried something about the law, and then he fired again, and shot himself. As he fell a young man slumped across a bench on which he had been sitting. It was John Kellogg, 19 year old son of the policeman, who had cried when he realized what his father had done.

TIMES PUBLISHER IS CHARGED WITH MISQUOTING KING

PREMIER TELLS COMMONS WORDS ARE "FABRICATION" CHARGE DENIED

Northcliffe Cables Royal Secretary Flat

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] London.—Premier Lloyd George, in the house of commons Friday read a statement, authorized by King George, declaring words attributed to the king concerning the government's Irish policy in a reported interview in the United States by Lord Northcliffe, who controls the London Times, are "a complete fabrication."

Mr. Lloyd George read a statement in which he said, the king had authorized him to read on His Majesty's behalf.

"His Majesty, the king, has had his attention directed to certain statements reporting an interview with Lord Northcliffe appearing in the Daily Mail and reproduced in the Daily Express and some other newspapers. The statements contained in the report are a complete fabrication. No such conversation as those which are alleged took place, nor were any such remarks as those alleged by His Majesty."

His Majesty also desires it to be made quite clear, as the contrary is suggested in the interview, that in his speech to the parliament of north Ireland, he followed the invariable constitutional practice relating to speeches from the throne in parliament."

Serious Statements.
In his introductory remarks, Lloyd George said:

"Statements have appeared in certain organs of the Irish and English press attributing words of grave consequence to His Majesty, the king, relating to Irish policy. They appeared in the form of an interview which Lord Northcliffe seems to have given in the United States and to have caused to be forwarded to his newspapers here for publication."

"It is quite impossible," continued the premier, "always to follow these calumnious statements, but here they are of a very categorical character and attribute serious statements to the sovereign, and moreover they are calculated at the present moment, if believed, to prejudice seriously the chances of an Irish settlement. They have been circulated very widely, more especially in Ireland and His Majesty has therefore, authorized me to read to the house of commons the following statement on his behalf which has just received."

Reads Quotation.
Mr. Lloyd George then read the previously quoted statement to the house. The premier concluded:

"I hope the statement may do something to sterilize the effects of the criminal malignity which for personal ends is endeavoring to stir up mischief between the allies, rendering the very treaty made by the British empire and the United States and to frustrate the hope of peace in Ireland."

The interview to which the premier referred, Lord Northcliffe, as saying, to Premier Lloyd George, just before his majesty left for Ireland:

"Are you going to shoot all the people in Ireland?"

which the premier was quoted as replying:

"No, your majesty."

"Well, then you must come to some agreement with them," said the king, according to the interview. "This thing can't go on. I can't have my people killed in this manner."

NORTHCLIFFE DENIES CHARGES OF PREMIER

PRISON INDUSTRY BIG STATE ASSET

Brings Large Returns, Report Shows: License Plates Made There.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Madison. — Industries operated by the Wisconsin State prison at Waupun since 1913 when the legislature made an initial appropriation of $50,000 to start their work, have been expanded until today they bring large annual returns to the state, the fiscal report of the state board of control shows.

All license plates for Wisconsin automobiles are turned out in the prison factory. There were 366,000 automobile and truck plates and 8,000 motorcycle plates manufactured with a considerable saving, according to the board.

The result of the operation of the binder twine plant for the last two years are reported as satisfactory. During the last year 1,000,000 pounds of twine were manufactured which sold for $728,512, with net profits for the year of $87,629.75. This is an increase from $54,524 in 1919.

Many on Farms.
Since the increase in prison farm acreage and the importance of producing food during the past biennium, the board reports that but few convicts were used for road construction.

Between 25 and 100 inmates were employed on farms, approximately 60 at the Southern Home for Feeble Minded, and the Industrial Home for Women at Taycheedah. The farm work is under contract with a knitting company between 200 and 250 are employed in manufacture of socks and stockings.

10,000 Pounds of Butter.
Ninety prisoners were employed continuously in the binder plant. The shoe shop supplied all the state institutions and many county institutions with footwear for inmates, while the cannery and dairy factory have turned out 10,000 pounds of butter and 15,000 pounds of cheese during the last year.

All men employed outside the prison are on the honor system, the board says, reporting that but few have attempted to escape.

Janesville's Taxes in 1845 Totaled but $3,000

Taxes in Janesville were somewhat lower in 1845 than now.

Also an early boom village of Wisconsin City faded with the building of the city of Janesville from the village.

An assessment roll for the township of Janesville for the year 1845 is in the record files of County Treasurer Arthur H. Church. The book is still in excellent condition, the handwriting being legible, evidently having been written with the best ink for the smallest details are readable.

George H. Williston was the assessor, his name being signed to the roll. Recipient of the assessment roll is chairman of the board of supervisors, who is the father of Charles A. Wood.

The book shows that there was a Wisconsin City in a section which is now a part of the city of Janesville, and a part of the township of Rock. The township was then composed of the village of Janesville, Smith, Bailey and stone addition, Smith and Bailey addition Hickory Glenn, village of Rockport, and Wisconsin City.

At this time the citizens instead of paying a state tax paid a territorial tax. The tax for the entire township amounted to $319.055. The assessors then carried their figures out to the tax collector, who was John A. Wood. The town tax amounted to $566.521. The township total was $3,002.703. This year the total of the city alone was around $700,000.

Assessment figures show that the valuation of a 120 acre farm, now worth $250 an acre, was then only $440 for the whole farm, and the taxes amounted to less than $5 a year.

GAME VIOLATIONS FREQUENT THIS YEAR

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Madison. — Fish and game laws have been violated with unusual frequency this summer, according to W. E. Barber, chairman of the conservation commission. Arrests have been more numerous than in previous years, he says, and fines heavier.

Belief on the part of many people that the warden force of the conservation commission has been disbanded through lack of funds is given as the cause for the unusual number of violations. Mr. Barber says that his men are now actively at work in the field.

In several sections of the state streams have been dynamited by poachers in order to kill the fish which they then sell. Arrests have been made in these cases and heavy fines imposed.

Shooting of deer and partridge in Northern Wisconsin is said to have been exceptionally frequent, out of season, and has resulted in a number of arrests and prosecutions.

Girl Hiker, Who Stopped Here, Is Held in Denver

Miss Mildred Davis, 15 year old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Davis, of Janesville, who stopped in Janesville two weeks ago while walking to Denver, evidently found that means of travel too hard in Colorado. When she reached Denver she was tired from the 1,000 mile hike and sought to reach Denver on a railroad flat car. She was taken into custody in Denver and the police sent word to her father, H. J. Davis, in Janesville. When in Janesville the girl told the police she had been with a claim near Denver. Not having the money to pay railroad fare to the western mountain city, she prepared to walk to Denver with only a five dollar bill as capital.

PEACHES AND CORN ARE 'BEST SELLERS'

Plums Also Popular on Local Market; Few Changes in Prices Generally.

No new arrivals are seen in the local fruit markets, although it is getting more firm in some varieties, especially plums, at their best at this time of year. They are now selling for 20 and 25 cents per pound. Watermelons remain at 50 cents per bushel, although the price is high enough to almost prohibit their sale. Plums are one of the most popular summer fruits here and large quantities are being sold. The blue variety seems to be the best seller now. There is little chance that the price will be reduced any, local dealers state.

Pears which were green at their first arrival more than a week ago, are now getting better and better. They are selling for 25 and 30 cents per bushel. Watermelons remain at 50 cents each, and the price on the large honey-crow melons also remains stationary at 45 cents.

Peaches May Drop. The peach market is about in its prime now, the fruit being large and ripe. The price fluctuates each day. The prices Friday were 25 and 30 cents per bushel. It is up to 50 cents down next week. A few cherries are in the stores selling for 50 cents per quart. When the blueberry crop of the state, one of the things for which Wisconsin is noted, is at its height, the price will drop. Plums vary in price little, selling for 10, 12 and 15 cents each, while some home grown melons have arrived and are bringing 20 cents each.

Apples are still in the market, although few stores are handling them. At one market they were selling for 38 cents per quart. Blackberries are practically gone, but a few are still in the market.

TOURISTS THROUGH WISCONSIN PARKS

Devil's Lake Leads in Popularity With Motor Public on Outings.

Madison. — The eight Wisconsin parks are affording pleasure for thousands of vacation tourists this year. C. L. Harrington, conservation commissioner, says: "The 2,500 trout streams and 2,000 inland lakes attract visitors from all sections of the country, who are transforming sections of the state into summer resorts."

To meet the conditions created by thousands of automobile travelers, Wisconsin has established these eight state parks, four of them purchased and four donated by citizens. Outside the state areas are hundreds of private summer resorts and settlements along streams and lakes. Among the parks, Devil's Lake, Sauk county, is most popular. This area comprises 1,400 acres of mountainous scenery, has been carefully developed and is the principle center for tourists. Over 100,000 visited the site in 1920, with a greater number anticipated for this year.

Seven Other Areas. The other seven areas set aside for park purposes are the Interstate park in Polk county, Nelson Dewey park in Grant county, Peninsula park in Trempealeau county, Battison park in Douglas county, Cushing Memorial park in Waukesha county, and Brule park and Forest lands in Douglas county.

IDLENESS CAUSING LOSS OF BILLION

Engineering Council Report Shows Startling Figures on Management.

New York.—Idle men and machinery are causing a loss of nearly a billion dollars a year in the metal trades industry, said a report issued Friday by the committee on elimination of waste in industry of the American Engineering Council. This estimate does not include the value of materials that would be utilized if productivity were increased.

Instability of labor employment and faulty management, the committee said, are major causes of waste in the industry, which is the largest in the United States. The committee estimates that in the United States alone, the loss of productivity due to these causes is about $1,000,000,000.

The average waste due to avoidable labor turnover in the metal industry is computed at $100,000,000. Modern employment methods, embracing the study of "why men quit," are urged.

Two 2,000,000 unnecessary separations the equivalent of 2,000,000 workers annually separated and rehired, says the report.

Present industrial conditions in the United States and abroad, are declared seriously to have affected the metal trades industry, which as a whole, is operating at only about sixty per cent normal.

"Manufacturers," the report adds, "can undoubtedly hasten a return to normal conditions by producing goods as economically as possible so as to make selling prices low enough to attract buyers."

Four Management.—"There are nearly 2,000,000 people engaged in the metal trades industry and an enormous increase in total production is possible. It is estimated that at present about 80 per cent of the responsibility for waste or nonproduction rests with management; namely with the managers and executives in the plants."

The report says that open interchange of ideas and business results by management in the particular industry and in other industries, should lead to a higher level of methods, service and general business ethics. It carried on through definite channels, such interchange might easily result in a combining of the possibilities of the future and the avoidance in the years to come, of such conditions as we are now facing.

Minnesota Named to Philippine Court.—Washington.—James A. Ostrand, of Minnesota, has been nominated to be associate justice of the Philippine supreme court.

Little Change in State Roads

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.) Milwaukee.—Road conditions in the eastern part of Wisconsin with the exception of the shortening up of the present detours, are generally the same as a week ago, the survey department of the Milwaukee Journal reports.

From Deerpark up to Cranston, county trunk A is available.

From Wisconsin Rapids to Marshfield, county trunk B.

The immediate vicinity of Milwaukee, it is expected most of the concrete work will be finished by the latter part of August. This means the main trunk lines will be open for traffic for state fair week.

READY TO FORCE BOOZE PENALTIES IN TWO COUNTIES

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.) Milwaukee.—Blair, in charge of the revenue office here, is in possession of warrants to enforce payment of penalties for handling illicit liquor, aggregating $30,000 in Racine and Kenosha counties, ranging in amounts from $50 to $5,000 each, it was announced Friday.

There has been considerable bootlegging in the vicinity of Racine and Kenosha, federal officials said, and the popular impression has been that men in this illegal business were making enormous profits and would not hesitate to pay (tax) penalties in the form of fines against property and have precedence over all other claims.

COPS CHASE ESCAPED CONVICT ON STREET

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.) Oshkosh.—After receiving a sentence of 10 years in the penitentiary after being found guilty of attempting to defraud the insurance company through a fire at his garage at Neenah, Harry Dean broke away from the sheriff's office at the city hall Friday and escaped through the business district, pursued by officers with drawn revolvers. He was captured after several persons had attempted to stop him. His sentence in municipal court was the maximum.

Appleton Man Found Guilty of Assault

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.) Oshkosh.—Edward Poetzel of Appleton was found guilty in municipal court here of assault with intent to rob a Neenah taxi driver. A motion for a new trial was granted. Another Appleton man, Harry J. Bond, who was in the court with Poetzel on the same charge, was discharged for lack of evidence.

WITH WOMEN OF TODAY

Can it be that women are more thrifty than men, or more commercial, or what is the reason that so many women make their hobbies pay? This is a question to which women who have been called the highest salaried woman in the United States, she is busy from morn till night at her desk job, but her hobby is roses and she has a rose garden which is the envy of many rose-growers. She has taken up her hobby "unusually early and makes it pay and pay well."

Mrs. George A. Kellogg.

has a rose garden which is the envy of many rose-growers. She has taken up her hobby "unusually early and makes it pay and pay well."

A Hartford, Conn. woman, Mrs. George A. Kellogg is another woman who makes her hobby pay. Mrs. Kellogg's hobby is stamp collecting and trading. At least it was a hobby with her when she went to high school and Wellesley college. Today her hobby has developed into a business, the monthly receipts of which would be the envy of many a business man.

Mrs. Kellogg insists that first of all she is a mother and a homemaker. Her stamp collecting and selling business, however, plays a close second to her home and children. Because of her deep interest and because she went at the stamp collecting in a systematic manner, it occurred to her that her knowledge and experience might be used to others starting a collection.

This was nine years ago. Her business grew so fast that she had to have an office, but unlike most women she had her office in her home. She spends a certain number of hours in it just as if it were in a downtown office building.

Soon after she had started, Mrs. Kellogg found that almost as many persons were in requests for comparative prices on various stamps as they did for stamps, and as it took time to

SAMSON TO FINISH MOVING NEXT WEEK

New Experimental Station at Main Plant to be Most Complete.

Moving of the Samson engineering plant from the quarters on East Milwaukee street, to the main units on industrial avenue will be completed next week. Most of the heavy machinery, testing equipment and chemical laboratory has already been installed in the main foundry. The machine shop for the engineering department has been established in the northeast bay of the new foundry, which will go to make up a combination pattern room, and testing machine shop. The new experimental shop is to be complete in detail for the making of tests and research work.

Making Many Tests.

No disposition of the Milwaukee street building has been announced as yet.

More than 400 tests have been conducted by the Samson on farm lands near Janesville. The dynamometer machine is used to obtain technical information on which experiments are conducted for tractor and implement equipment. Tests are being made on wheels and tires. It was announced Friday by C. M. Eason, head of the engineering department.

Rearranging Shops.

Maintenance employees at the main plant are curing for the stock and truck machinery being shipped to the Samson from Flint, Michigan. The machine shop at the main plant is being rearranged for the manufacture of trucks on the new line. Stock rooms and bins are being built on the south side of the assembly building.

Success has marked the tests made with the Samson equipment. It is stated.

5 CASES CARRIED TO SUPREME COURT

Appeared from the injunction of Judge Grinn to the Wisconsin supreme court, holding that the Rock county judge had no jurisdiction to issue the restraining order. In turn, the railroad attorneys have filed an appeal in the Minnesota supreme court on the verdict reached in the trial.

In event the Wisconsin supreme court upholds Judge Grinn's decision, it is likely to lose his damage award.

Appeal Land Case.

An appeal was taken in the case of Ernest Armstrong, Rock county farmer, against the Stewart Land company, Kansas City, Mo.

Armstrong brought suit against the land company alleging fraud and misrepresentation in the sale of Texas property. His allegations were denied by the land company. Judge Grinn and the plaintiff was awarded full damages amounting to more than $50,000. The defendant company has now appealed the case.

Kressia Car Case.

The Janesville Traffic company through Attorney William H. Dougherty has taken appeal in the damage suit of Le Verne Kressia against the corporation. Kressia was injured when playing on a traction company repair car.

A jury awarded $1,382.55 damages. The appeal claim is that the company was not liable under the facts of the case, the contention being that reasonable precautions had been taken and that the child was trespassing on private property.

Argue over Demurrer.

An old local dispute is to be settled in the supreme court when decision is handed down in the case of Nellie Hogan against the city of Beloit. The Beloit woman was injured October 23, 1919 and sued the city for $10,000 on the claim the walk was defective.

Before trial of the action a demurrer was filed claiming that insufficient notice was given in the process. Judge Grinn overruled the demurrer and ordered the case for trial. The appeal is being taken on the decision of the court to discard the demurrer. H. W. Adams and R. A. Edgar are the contesting attorneys in this case.

WHIPPLE IS SILENT ON MAYOR'S REMARKS

Sheriff Cash Whipple refused to make a comment on the statement of Mayor Thomas E. Welsh that sheriff's office "should get busy and clean up moonshine conditions in Beloit." The Rock county sheriff only laughed and slyly remarked that "the people knew."

The sheriff discarded the statement and held it with umor on Friday morning.

"Possibly the mayor might have some evidence he would care to present to the authorities on where to get that liquor in Beloit and how much it costs," was the only comeback that was stated by one of the members of the sheriff's office.

A successful entertainment was given before 100 people by the Rockwell Camp Fire girls at the Y. W. C. A. rooms Thursday night and $62 was realized, this sum to be used to help defray expenses for a camping trip to Lake Koshong.

The girls will go to camp Monday for two weeks.

The main feature was the play, "A Bunch of Roses" in which the following girls took part: Misses Genevieve Jensen, Lillian Brown, Clara Akker, Clara Matheson, Ruth Jensen, Sigrid Daily, Evelyn Guinness, Ethelyn Jersild. Two solos were given by Miss Hildors Peterson, a reading by Mabel Jensen and a pantomime by Misses Dorothy Jensen, Gladys Jensen, Thelma Garvin, Mabel Staven, Agnes Staven and Florence Jensen.

Another feature of the program was a singing of "Mary's Little Lamb" in "Virginia" and "Old Black Joe" in a circle, with a fire effect in the center. Ice cream and lemonade were sold. Miss Zillah Heist is guardian of the girls.

BUGGS APPLIES FOR SALOON LICENSE

Herman Buggs, proprietor of a beverage dispensing establishment at 24 South River street, made application Friday to City Clerk E. J. Sartell for a city license to sell drinks containing up to one-half of one per cent alcohol. His check for $50 was turned over to City Treasurer W. J. Tennant.

LIFE ENDANGERED BY EXPLODING AUTO

Fire starting from a short circuit Thursday exploded the gas tank of a milk truck driven by Herman Jensen, this city, endangering his life before he could free himself from the wreckage. The accident occurred near Barker corners on the Edgerton road. Jensen was summoned from the Janesville fire department, but the machine was damaged beyond repair. Application of a hand extinguisher walls awaiting the fire truck proved useless.

Janesville Woman Tells
of Life in Florida City

By NELLIE VAN REYNUM HORN

(For the Gazette.)

It is just a year since we arrived in Tampa, and like all anniversaries

it is filled with retrospection. Musings—an intricate blending of heart-

sings for the home folks and the home town, and gratitude that the new friends and the new home have proved to be congenial.

As one of our humorists has tri-cely said, "a rolling stone is bound to get some bumps," but the bumps ones simply those incidental to the adjustments that must come with any change. They are the bumps that keep us from being like the four little peas in the pod who thought that all the world was green.

Wanted Only Few Things

On our arrival, only two things aroused our interest—bath and bed.

We had seen hundreds of sparkling blue tiled bathrooms and bedrooms

and, through the tropical forests hung with festoons of gray Spanish moss. We had crossed wide, deep rivers, blue with floating hyacinths

and through prosperous

towns, and through countless miles of orange groves. We had had a glimpse of Florida, and Tampa could wait and see and hot water without a word within, had given our enthusiasm a new spurt of life.

However, it is a combination of never fade to work, and next morning we eagerly rushed to the windows for our first view of the bay,

glittering in the Southern sunshine.

We walked down to the wharf where the giant live-oaks, "hoary moss," are all that remain of the stockade that once housed the garrison who made this strategic point their headquarters. Afterward, the little fishing village spring up, using this as a nucleus, and in an incredibly short time, it grew into the city

it now is.

Impressions of a Woman

Of course I am not a widely traveled person, and am not in any sense of the word a critic. I can only give you the impressions that any interested woman, would receive of a country so far distant and quite different from her own home. I say far because in a comparative sense, for it is the farthest I have ever been from home, and on certain days when the air feels like it does in Wisconsin, and something you can't explain makes you long unutterably to stroll

down Main and Milwaukee streets and up through the Courts House park, when you feel that you've been away from home, you know that when you feel that way, whether over you is an appalling number of miles away, whether it's

Madison, Wisconsin, or in Tampa,

Florida.

However, I was speaking of the Southern sun shining on the glittering bay, and while the sun went under a cloud, and the "heavens opened and the rain fell," and we scurried for shelter in a drug store, "Yas-um," I drew the polka store dispenser,

"It's a right, smart shower,"

"It's a right, smart shower,"

"It's a right, smart shower,"

"It's a right, smart shower,"

"It's a right, smart shower,"

"It's a right, smart shower,"

"It's a right, smart shower,"

"It's a right, smart shower,"

"It's a right, smart shower,"

"It's a right, smart shower,"

"It's a right, smart shower,"

"It's a right, smart shower,"

though it is true that only during the last ten or fifteen years has grass been considered a weed, and that the grassy yards are a hank-over from the formal garden period, when while shell paths wound in intricate mazes between perpetually blooming flowers and grass had no place in the picture.

Now the grassy yard is in the minority, and though the grass is of a different texture from the northern variety, it is a surety that a thing of beauty and a joy forever.

Speaking of the marvelous vegetation, I have a neighbor whose vegetation I have no reason to doubt, who has tomato vines, three years old,

which have been bearing the greater part of the time. However, he always speaks in a rather disparaging way of them, and says he wishes that I could see some of his wonderful things a friend of his near Bradenton has produced. What further wonders this friend of my friend's may have brought forth, I am not guaranteeing, though I can vouch for the tomatoes. For the rest I do not see. I only state what was told to me.

The boxes have bloomed profusely all winter. To quote my neighbor's laundress, an elephantine

lady of color who has furnished us

many laughs, "Dem's do me!"

"Uolomins" boxes Ah evch done seed."

"Sweetest" Procrastination

On being asked recently if she felt his precincts until you leave, you must hear the English language spoken excepting by your own party.

The sights, the sounds, and above all the smells, make you doubt the possibility that you are still in the U. S.

A whole lot of fifteen minutes ride

from our own all-American home.

They serve Spanish, Italian and Cuban dinners down there which are quite the mode among the Tampan-ians. No one who has not a first-hand experience, and a well-ventilated stomach, ought to indulge in them.

They are the supreme test of gastronic agility.

Beauty Spots Are Many

There are many parks and bathing beaches within easy access to all, either by street car or auto-bus. As a whole they are rather poorly equipped. If rustic benches and arbors, picturesque bridges and shell paths

were put in, these added to the tropical beauty with which nature has been so prodigal, would make the parks incomparable. However, there has been much agitation along this line, and before long, Florida will do what California has done, and make the most of its wonderful natural attractions.

The new South is a South awakened, a South that realizes that it is not an inferiority state, and is a part in the march of progress. It has attacked all its problems in farming,

business and commerce with a clear vision and a determination that it will not fall place to where with its natural resources it should be, the equal of any portion of the country.

And in the Summer

As to make we realize the indispensable in the winter, nor have heat protections in the summer. Being a narrow peninsula, Florida is swept all summer from coast to coast by resulting breezes, and this is not the best of it, but the heat that suffocates
